

THE ESSENCE OF A GREAT CYCLING COMMUNITY

CYCLE AID STATION – IT'S THE ESSENCE. DO YOU HAVE ONE?

Strive to make commuting by bicycle more accessible for members. Bicycle parking is often the piece of the commuting puzzle that's overlooked. Saris designs parking products & solutions so that creating safe areas for members to park their bikes is easy and affordable. Simply designed to last. Guaranteed.

As a step to help communities encourage more bike riders, Saris announces the arrival of its Cycle Aid and Cycle Air products as the newest pieces of their cycling infrastructure product line.

The Cycle Aid station is a public work stand, putting an easy to manage bike holder and eight common maintenance tools together in a self-contained unit that can be installed inside or outside, on trail heads or in an urban setting. By putting the tools where the riders are, the real and perceived fear of being stranded if there is a problem is removed. Additionally, it makes the rider feel understood. They think "my community wants me to ride my bike here". And, the good feeling provides the intrinsic motivation to keep riding. It's the essence.
